

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
HEADQUARTERS UNITED STATES AIR FORCE
WASHINGTON, DC

Dear Airman

Have you been called or ordered to active duty service in response to a contingency operation or national emergency declared by the President or Congress after 11 September 2001 for at least 90 days? If so, you may qualify for benefits under the Reserve Educational Assistance Program (REAP).

Under REAP, you may receive up to 80 percent of the active duty benefit, if you serve two or more consecutive years of active service. I encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity and explore your potential entitlement to REAP benefits.

I've enclosed the Veterans Administration (VA) Pamphlet that will explain REAP in detail and answer many of your questions. In addition, your local Wing Education and Training Office can assist you in completing necessary paperwork.

I am so proud of the high level of professionalism of our Air Force Reserve members. You should be proud of your service to our country. I am grateful for your dedication and offer thanks for your past, current and future contributions to the Air Force Reserve.

REGARDS,

JOHN A. BRADLEY
Lieutenant General, USAF
Chief of Air Force Reserve
